

DON'T SLEEP IN THE SUBWAY - Jackie Trent/Tony Hatch

4/4 1...2...1234

Intro: |  |  |  |  |  |  |

You wander a-round on your own little cloud, when you don't see the why or the wherefore

You walk out on me when we both disa-gree, 'cause to reason is not what you care for

I've heard it all a million times be-fore

Take off your coat, my love, and close the door

Don't sleep in the subway, darlin', don't stand in the pouring rain

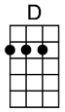

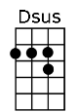

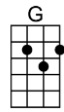

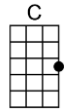

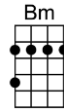

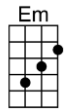

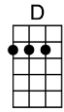

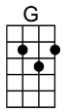

Don't sleep in the subway, darlin', the night is lonely

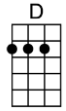

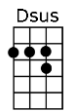

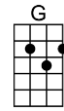

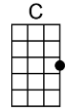

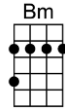

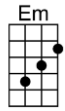

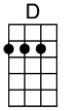

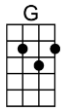

For-get your foolish pride, nothing's wrong. Now you're beside me a-gain

Interlude:

p.2. Don't Sleep In the Subway

You try to be smart, then you take it to heart, 'cause it hurts when your ego is de-flated

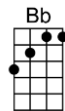

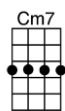

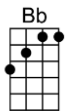

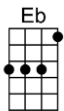

You don't rea-lize that it's all compro-mise, and the problems are so over-rated

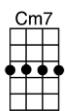

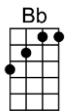

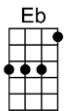

Goodbye means nothing when it's all for show

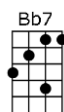

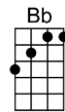

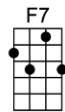

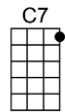

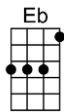

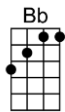

So why pre-tend you've somewhere else to go

Don't sleep in the subway, darlin', don't stand in the pouring rain

Don't sleep in the subway, darlin', the night is lonely

For-get your foolish pride, nothing's wrong. Now you're beside me a-gain (repeat refrain, end on Bb)
