ANY LITTLE TIME-Rachael & Vilray

4/4 1...2...1234

Intro: |   |   |   |    |

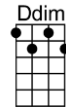

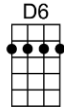

Any little time, could just be standing in a line, but then I get to thinkin' 'bout the time
Any little time, a stranger's laugh gets in my mind, re-calling just the middle of a joke

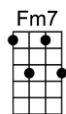

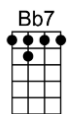

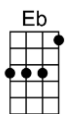

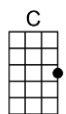

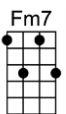

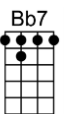

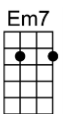

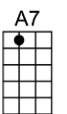

When you loved me, and every little time I'll cry
You once told me, and every little time I'll cry

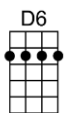

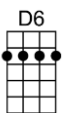

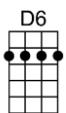

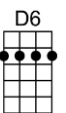

I notice every set of eyes looks to the ground or to the skies
It mysti-fies the happy guy whose laugh was half the reason why

A heart can break at any little time (2nd verse)
A heart can break at any little time

Fear-some tears come. Let them flow

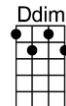

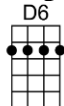

Any little time could be the bottom of the ninth, or in the highest tent in Kath-man-du

If you don't love me, then every little time I'll cry

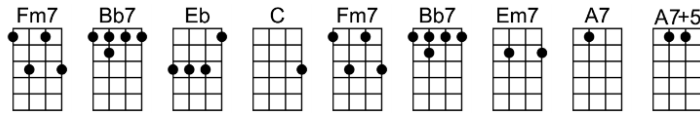

And all the monks and all the umps will know for sure I'm in the dumps

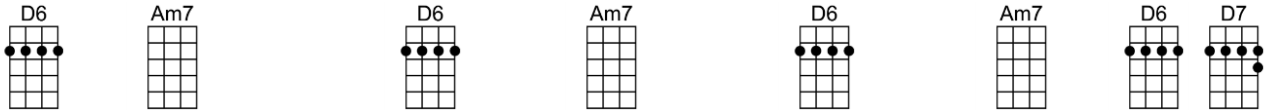

A heart can break at any little time

p.2. Any Little Time

Instrumental verse (First 4 lines)

Fear -some tears come. Let them flow

Any little time could be the bottom of the ninth, or in the highest tent in Kath-man-du

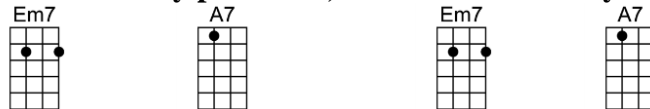

If you don't love me, then every little time I'll cry

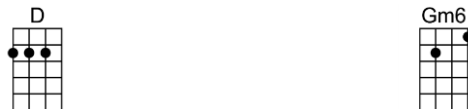

And all the monks and all the umps can only laugh at such a chump

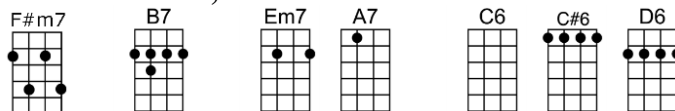

The Nepa-lese will say puh-lease, and ask me tactfully to leave

Another foul into the stands feels like a subtle repri-mand

Outro: A heart can break, and then the dam can break

And it can all just happen at any little time
